

Brazos Heritage Society's Camp Hearne Living History Day Trip

In 1943, Germany's famed Afrika Corps, led by General Erwin Rommel, surrendered to Allied Forces. These German forces out of North Africa, later followed by other Axis troops as the war swung in favor of the Allies, were brought to the U.S. and housed in POW camps across the nation. Eventually, some 425,000 Axis POWs would be "guests" of America until after the end of WWII. Of the 22 main camps and 48 branch camps in Texas, the first and largest was just outside Hearne...
